FRANK ABDUCTED AND HANGED

Condemned Murderer of Mary Phagan Found Suspended to Tree

HIS WIFE COLLAPSES

Victim's Mother Glad All's Over and That Sufferings of Her Son Are at an End.

Atlanta, Aug. 17—The body of Leo Frank, who was kidnaped from the State prison camp at Milledgeville by a party of armed men in automobiles at midnight, was found hanging today to a tree about seventy-five feet off a public highway two miles from Marietta, the home of Mary Phagan, of whose murder he was convicted.

Frank's wrists were locked in handcuffs in front of his body.

The rope about his neck had broken open the wound in his throat and blood streamed down the prison suit in which he was dressed.

He was barefooted.

Mrs. Frank, who has remained at the prison since her husband's throat was slashed last month, was told shortly after midnight of the dangerous plight of her husband. Before the prison official had completed his first sentence Mrs. Frank swooned and went into convulsions. She was revived with considerable difficulty. Physicians at the prison were called to her aid, and it was learned that her condition was extremely critical. All effort to revive her failed for an hour, and a hurry call was sent to Athens for trained nurses to come with all possible haste.

At about 4 o'clock it was stated that Mrs. Frank was on the verge of death and that slight hope for her recovery was entertained. At 9 o'clock, however, she had a change for the better and physicians hoped for a gradual improvement.

According to advices from Marietta the convicted murderer of Mary Phagan, fourteen-year-old factory worker who was saved from the noose only a few weeks ago by the action of then Governor Slaton in commuting his sentence to life imprisonment, was roughly handled before being hanged

Reports from Marietta did not confirm statements that Marietta citizen composed the squad of kidnapers Authorities at Marietta said none of their citizens appeared to be missing at least none of those particularly active in earlier efforts to mob Frank

Governor Harris this morning ordered every agency of the State enlisted in an effort to trace the kidnaping party.

He has ordered Warden Smith to submit a full report. Smith is expected here for a personal conference with the governor.

Atlanta was agog with excitement over the kidnaping of Frank, but there were no disorders with which the police were not able to cope.

This morning small groups of persons congregated on street corners and excitedly discussed the case. A few hotheads made curbstone speeches but the popular demonstrations were at a minimum.

An earlier dispatch from Lynchburg quotes J. K. Jackson, living near the Putnam-Baldwin county line, as saying that he heard a body of men rush past his home about midnight and shortly afterward heard a hundred shots. Empty cartridge shells were picked up this morning near Jackson's home.

An automobile, carrying newspaper correspondents, was dispatched to the bridge spanning Little river at once, and found scores of empty revolver and shotgun cartridges. The bridge was scarred with shots and bullets and empty shells were scattered for a hundred yards along the roadway, but there was no evidence of the body. Not even a drop of blood could be detected on the bridge where the bullets entered the woodwork.

Ground in that immediate vicinity was searched for the body but no trace of it could be found.

There are several theories advanced as to why the shooting was done at this particular place.

One theory is that the shooting was done to frighten Frank.

Another theory was that a rowboat was in waiting at Little river at this point, and that Frank was to have been placed in a boat here and taken down stream to some point in the Oconee river, where he could be rescued in an automobile. This stream flows into the Oconee river only two miles below.

Another theory was that Frank was shot and killed that his body was thrown from the bridge into the stream. This was soon disproved by the message from Marietta.

New York, Aug. 17— "Thank God, he is dead, and through with his troubles," said Mrs. Rudolph Frank, mother of Leo M. Frank, when informed at her home, 152 Underhill avenue, here today, that her son's body had been found.

"If he had lived, his life would have been a torture to him and they might have killed him in a worse way."

Mrs. Frank said she had received no message from Georgia regarding the kidnaping of Leo from the prison.

As has often been told, Leo M. Frank was convicted for one of the most sordid crimes in the history of pretty fourteen-year-old Mary Phagan, a little worker in the National Pencil Factory, who had kissed her mother goodby less than an hour before her death.

Frank, an educated man of a good Jewish family, was superintendent of the factory. His uncle was the president of the company. In private life Frank had hitherto been without reproach. He was an active lodge member and a good husband.

The testimony against him hinged on the story of Jim Conley, a negro who told of helping dispose of the girl's body. Called an "ignorant black" by Frank's supporters, Conley yet withstood without weakening twelve and a half hours straight cross-examination by Luther Rosser dean of the Atlanta bar. At the end his testimony was unshaken.

Frank is the son of Mr. and Mrs Rudolph Frank, of Brooklyn. His father was a retired business man of means. The son graduated fro public schools and Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, and then took an engineering course at Cornell University. He married Miss Lucille Selig, daughter of a wealthy Brooklyn family, who stood by him steadfastly and always has maintained his innocence to the end.

The body of the young girl, bearing marks of violence and evidently murdered, was found in the cellar of the factory building Sunday morning, April 27, 1913. Beside it lay several notes, purporting to have been written by the girl herself and fixing the blame on "a tall negro."

Conley declared he wrote the notes at Frank's direction. He gave a long account of repulsive depravity that he attributed to Frank. He said he had acted as "look out" while Frank received the young woman in his office. She was strangled in struggling unsuccessfully against outrage.

After Frank had choked the girl to death, the negro said, he ordered his employee to burn the body in the factory furnace. Conley balked at this, so together they carried the body to the basement where it was found.

The girl, it was shown by the State had left her home that afternoon to collect some money due her. The defense maintained the girl did not reach the factory at the definite time the murder was said to have been committed ,and also tried to prove an alibi for Frank.

On the other hand, the State's attorney brought the child's mother to testify Mary left home at about 1::45 Saturday morning, the day proceeding her death, after hastily eating some boiled cabbage. A newsboy said that he rode to the city with her and that she reached the factory a few minutes after noon. A physician stated after an examination of the gril's stomach that she must have met death within thirty or forty minutes after eating.

Conley said Frank exclaimed a few minutes after the crime, "Why should I hang? I have wealthy people in Brooklyn." His prediction proved true in regard to the money, for this was lavished on the defense.

STORM LASHES GALVESTON

Wind Blew From 65 to 90 Miles an Hour Last Night

STORM DIMINISHING.

Water From Bay Driven Into Cities —No Serious Damage Nor Fatalities Reported.

Houston, Aug 17— There were reports filtering in here early today that the worst of the storm which has been piling up the water in Galveston's streets is over.

From Brownsville before daybreak word was received that conditions were alleviated by the falling of the wind, which at times had approached a velocity of ninety miles an hour, and was added to in its fury by a veritable rain deluge.

Telegraph and telephone communication with Galveston still was badly crippled early today.

Galveston, Texas Aug. 17—At 3 o'clock last night the highest velocity of the hurricane was 65 to 73 miles an hours, with occasional jets blowing as high as 90 miles.

The only damage thus far caused was the destruction of window panes and insecure woodwork on exposed buildings.

A heavy rain fell throughout the day and tonight the streets are filled with water to the curbing .

The sea wall is holding, with no sign of weakening.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 17—Full effects of the terrific West India hurricane which passed through the Yucatan channel Sunday were felt at Gulf Coast points late yesterday when the wind reached a velocity of 70 miles an hour and alarm was felt for the safety of various ports, notably Galveston, concerning which disturbing reports were circulated. The exodus of frightened persons was said to have ceased.

At 5 P. M. water from Galveston Bay was being driven into the lower part of the city along the wharf front.

In front of the News building the water was reported as about one foot deep, running even with the curbing.

The new seawall at Galveston was holding firmly, although spray from the breakers splashed over it.

Rising tides, which flooded the railroad between Sabine and Port Arthur, were reported at Beaumont to have trapped two women and three men at Sabine.

The women are said to have refused to leave after all other inhabitants had deserted the town. Other coast resorts, including Port Bolivar, Caplen and Rollover, were reported under water.

The lobby of the Santa Fe Station, at Galveston, was crowded with 1,000 anxious persons Sunday night. Other reports from that city were to the effect that more than 100 refugees, including tourists from Northern states, had arrived there from Galveston.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 17—Wires to Galveston went down at 6:30 o'clock last night. The storm threatened also to cut off wire communication with Beaumont and several other Texas coast towns.

Galveston, Texas, Aug. 17— The tropical storm which struck Galveston yesterday, while very severe, had caused no serious damage or loss of life up to 6 o'clock yesterday evening.

Houston, Tex., Aug. 17—With the wind blowing seventy-five miles an hour, water filling the streets and the light and power plant out of commission, the people of Galveston are fleeing from the city on every train.

Practically every town along the Texas Gulf Coast reports similar conditions. Although the actual damage indicated at 7 o'clock last night is confined to a few houses blown over and no known loss of life, the situation is growing worse with such alarming rapidity that fear of another disaster is expected everywhere and all precautions possible have been taken to meet any emergency. Both the Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies have closed their offices, quitting work when their floors were flooded with six inches of water.

The streets of Galveston are full of water and boats are traversing the thoroughfares, carrying families to positions of better safety.

The water has not broken over the seawall, however and the seawall has not been damaged, according to Galveston reports. The water backed into the streets from the lower end of the island.

This seawall, which once before 1899 stood a severe storm test, is seventeen feet high, sloping, and at some places fifty feet wide, forming a boulevard. The disaster of 1900, in which 8,000 persons lost their ives, started in exactly the same manner. The loss of life then was due chiefly to the fact that houses were knocked against each other and destroyed by wind and wave. Should the wind grow much higher and the water deeper, many houses will be blown over and knocked together.

The Santa Fe office reported that water in the Galveston station is four feet deep.

Ten houses were blown over at Victoria.

The town of Sabine and Sabine Pass have been deserted as well as Port Lavaca.

Water is reported in streets of every coast town from Corpus Christi to Orange.

WAR DAY OF JUDGEMENT

Richmond Minister Declares Great Conflict Comes as Answer to Blasphemy

Considering the moral or immoral aspects of the great conflict in Europe, Rev. Leighton Parks, D. D. of Richmond, says: "For many years multitudes of men and women have been withdrawing from the church and the church has made frantic efforts to win them back. Some of these efforts have been reactionary and some have been revolutionary. One the one hand devout men have believed that a revival of ceremonies and opinious longe dandones would win the world to Christ, and others have turned from Christ and sought in some form of theosophy or some teaching of ethics for a means to stem the rising tide of materialism and sensualism and sentimentalism which threatened to overthrow family and State.

"And now the day of judgement has come, and the church is being sifted. Listen to this, from the German Nietzsche: 'I regret Christianity as the most fatal and seductive lie that has ever yet existed—as the strongest and most impious lie; I urge people to declare war with it. The morality of paltry people as the most repugnant kind of degeneracy that civilization has ever yet brought into existence. And this kind of idea is hanging still, under the name of God over men's heads.'

"We instinctively shrink from such blasphemy; but we forget that it is an utterance that has found a response. This great poet-philosopher has called 'spirits from the vasty deep'—spirits of war and lust and rapine, spirits of envy and hatred and cruelty. They came in answer to this magician's call, and the bloody waters of the Marne and the canals of Flanders are chocked with the dead.

"Is it true that 'Christianity' is the enemy of Christ? if there were no truth in the charge it would be impotent. We must find how much of truth there is in it, and reform the church. What have the great ecclesistical institutions to answer?

"Ultramontaine omanism and traditional Protestatism are impotent in this crisis. The appeal of both is to an absent God whose existence is proved by the miraculous, and modern seepticism has refused to hear anything more on the subject. But to a spiritual message—the massage of Jesus Christ—the world will listen ..... The church must proclaim it. Every church has a number of elect souls, and it is their faith and love and hope which will save the world."

BRITISH SHIP TORPEDOED

Transport En Route to Dardanelles Destroyed in Aegean Sea

ABOUT 1000 MEN LOST

Official Statement to British Admiralty Says Six Hundred Men Were Saved From Vessel.

London, Aug. 17—About one thousand lives are believed to have been lost by the sinking of the British transport, Royal Edward, in the Aegean en route to the Dardanelles, on Saturday by a German submarine.

The Royal Edward carried 1,350 soldiers, 32 military officers, and a crew of about 220 men. An official statement from the admiralty today said that " six hundred are known to have been saved."

This is the second transport lost by Great Britain since the war began. In an engagement off the coast of Asia Minor, near the Gulf of Smyrna, a transport was sunk several weeks ago, but without heavy loss of life, according to the admiralty statement'

Presumably the former Canadian Northern liner Royal Edward of Toronto, was the vessel torpedoed. She was a 11,117 ton steel triple screw steamer, owned by the Canadian Northern steamship company, and is understood to have been commandeered by the British government for use as a transport at the beginning of the war.

The Royal Edward was built in 1908 at Glasgow. She was 526 feet long and had a sixty foot beam. She was modernly built throughout and equipped with wireless.

LAUDS PAPAL PEACE ACTS.

Rome, Aug. 16—Emperor Franz Josef of Austria has written Pope Benedict applauding the Vatican's efforts for peace and adding;

"I also pray God that we may have an early peace."

His holiness has summoned Cardinal Gasparri from Monte Celini, where the latter was spending his vacation. It was reported today that Gasparri's return was hastened by the pontiff's new moves for peace.

Some excitement was caused on King street, near Royal, early this afternoon by the arrest of a young man who gave his name as Joseph Heath, of Washington, who had caused a disturbance in the Alexandria Quick Lunch House and assaulted Wiliam Nelson, one of the attaches. Sergeant Wilkerson arrested Heath.

Miss Bettie E. Keys, left today to spend the next two weeks at Bradlock Heights, Md.

Miss Emma and Elizabeth Markwood, of Charlotesville, Va., are the guest of Mrs. Fred H. Schneider, at her home on Queen St.

Paris Aug. 17—The decision of the prize court in the case of the former Hamburg-American Line freight steamer Dacia, which was granted American registry in January and seized by a French cruiser in Februaray while bound with a cotton cargo for Bremen, has been made public.

SUFFRAGE QUESTION

Congressman Tells Congressional Union Delegation He is Opposed to Amendment.

Appomattox, Va., August 17—Congressman Hal D. Flood, of the Ninth Virginia District yesterday told a delegation from the Congressional Union for Woman's Suffrage that he is opposed to submitting the Susan Anthony amendment to the Federal Constitution to the States for ratification. He took the position that the question of suffrage is a matter for each State to decide for itself, but did not indicate his personal views of the question of votes for women.

Mr. Flood received a party of women, headed by Miss Edith Hansche, of Washington, and Mrs. Dexter Otey at his country home in a very cordial manner. A banner bearing the words "We demand the passage of an amendment" was held aloft as the suffragists motored from the town in several automobiles, and the streamer was displayed prominently on the veranda of the Congressman's home.

Mrs. Otey spoke for the party, and urged Mr. Flood to vote for the Susan B. Anthony amendment at the next session of Congress. She insisted that it was right and just, and based upon the principle that taxation without representation is unfair. The Congressman was asked to pledge his vote.

Mr. Flood replied that he had been fighting "taxation without representation" all his life, and said:

'I seriously doubt whether the Constitution ever intended to give the right to amendment in a matter affecting suffrage. If I vote to submit the Susan Anthony amendment to the States I woud take the position that the suffrage is a question which the Federal government has the right to act upon. I believe each State ought to decide for itself the condition of suffrage in that State, and that other States should have nothing to do with the question. I have always occupied that position, and those of us who have maintained that Federal officials should be elected by the electors in the States could not vote to submit an amendment to the State, by which a minority of the State could be coerced by three-fourths' majority to give right of suffrage to persons that the minority States think they should not have."

The visit to Mr. Flood's home followed one the first suffrage meetings of importance ever held in Appomattox. Mrs. Otey opened the discussion, and spoke in a very pleasing way on what is termed "straight suffrage," and explained why women ought to have a vote. Miss Hansche presented the ways and methods by which the Congressional Union hopes to obtain the ballot.

LUNCH ROOM ROBBED.

Six Men Steal Equipment of King St. Establishment.

Not being satisfied with beating the Alexandria Quick Lunch at 320 King street out of an elaborate dinner, six men stole the entire equipment of one of the tables on Sunday night. The men entered the lunch room when there were few patrons eating and when a lone waiter was keeping the "dog watch." They ordered a full meal of every thing there was in the house that could be readily prepared not forgetting a plentiful supply of soft drinks and cigars.

When the meal was practically finished they ordered coffee which required the waiter to go to the kitchen While he was gone from the room, all of the table's furnishings, including the table cloth, dishes, silver ware, sugar bowl and contents, salt shakers, vinegar bottle, were placed in the pockets of the enterprising sextette who made a quick get away in the direction of the river. The police were notified but have been unable to locate the thieves.

SHOOTING SCRAPE.

The Alexandria county authorities are investigating a shooting scrape that took place last night at the old St Asaph race track between a party of Washington negroes and employees of the contractors who are building the Mt. Vernon avenue. It is reported that a man and a woman were shot.

When in Alexandria visit the Hotel Rammel.

RUSSIAN COUP CHECKS GERMANS

Forced to Change Conquest Plans and Send Reinforcements

EXPECT BIG BATTLES

Retreat in Riga District Believed Only Forerunner of Great Muscovite Offensive.

Petrograd, Aug. 17—The general acticity wwhich is compelling the Germans to give immediate attention to their northern half of the campaign has changed the character of the operations from Warsaw. The deployment of six German armies, or from 40 to 45 corps, over a front of 180 versts facing Osowiec and Brest-Litovsk, shows that their future tasks in the woody, swampy zone of Poliessie, surrounding Brest-Lotovsk to the southeast, excludes the possibility of their turning the Russian left flank. In the Baltic provinces, on the Russian right, the Germans are now reinforced, troops having been brought from Poland, where the army of Woyrsch has been filled by Austrians.

Serious battles are expected now in the Baltic region, where the enemy's aims latterly have been compelled to harmonize his operations with the issue of the recent sea fight. He retreated pending the arrival of reinforcements, at the same time keeping up his communications with the sea. Now that his reinforcements have arrived he will make most stubborn efforts to regain the lost ground. Meanwhile reports from Riga show there has been a resumption of the normal life of the city.

From the Ciechanowiec region, where Woyrsch lost 800 Austrians and many machine guns, operations are not likely to develop seriously now, as the locality is swampy and great Russian forces are concentrated at Bielsk, protecting the railway at Bielstock. The enemy's immediate task here is to hinder the Russians' normal course of regroupment and also to gain more territory so as to enable him to keep troops which will be necessary later for the battle for Brest-Litovsk.

AVIATORS AT WORK.

Allies Bombard Galata, Suburb of Constantinople.

London, Aug 16—French and British aviators have bombarded Galata, the largest suburb of Constantinople, on the north side of the Golden Horn, according to an Athens dispatch to the Daily News today.

Allied warships raided the Asia-Minor coast near the Gulf of Smyrna Saturday, shelling Turkish encampments at Dekeli, Phocea and New Epesus. The Turks fled to the interior.

To have bombarded the city, allied aviators must have flown a distance of about 150 miles.

HANGS SELF FROM TREE

Suicide Worried Over Debts and Lack of Employment

Philadelphia, Aug. 16—Worry over his debts and inability to obtain employment caused Matthew Franck, 36 years old, of No. 546 North Randolph street, to commit suicide Saturday night by hanging himself from a tree in the rear yard at his home. His body was discovered by his wife after midnight while she was making a search for him.

According to the wife, Franck must have stolen out of bed while she lay asleep and committed the deed. He took a heavy piece of clothes line, fastened it to one of the branches of the tree while standing on a box, and after adjusting the noose about his neck kicked the box from under him.

Miss Hattie Snellings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Snellings, of this city, and Bernard Hooker, of Richmond, were married Sunday in Washington. They will make their home in Richmond.

LOUIS KRAFFT'S LETTER

Former Resident Sends His Impressions of Present Conditions In Germany

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

Dear Sir:—

You would accomplish a favor by publishing the following in reply to your editoral of June 26th, headed "Peace Element in Germany."

In your issue of June 26th, you state editorally that the German people are tiring of the war and that a strong move for peace has set in since it has became evident that German soldiers are not superior to those of other nations. There is no doubt, that Germany is a peacefully nation and it is a fact that it maintained the peace of Europe for over thirty years, notwithstanding the many provocations of the members of the triple alliance, but, with exception of a very few radical socialists, like Liebknieckt, who are not even backed by their own party, the German people are a unit to fight this war, which was forced upon them by English greed to a finish, particularly since it has become a moral certainty that Germany can not be conquored by all her combined enemies. The talk of peace at the present time is considered by ninety nine per cent of her people as very untimely. If you think that the enthusiasm, which prevailed in Germany ten months ago has diminished you certainly are very much mistaken. Just the contrary is the case. The writer of this living in a city with a garrison of 8,000 soldiers and on an average of about 500 well drilled men are sent to the front from here every week, all eager to defend their fatherland against a world of enemies. They go to the front with a light heart, singing patriotic songs. Two men, who had been quartered at my house at the beginning of the war have been back here wounded, one of them twice and the other three times and both of them were very anxious to go to the front again as soon as they were well enough. You speak of the Kaiser and his warlike hordes, which is an unjustifiable slur of Germany and her people Germany has no hordes but has the most democratic army the world has ever seen .Since military duty is compulsory, everybody is a soldier and we find in the lines of this country the millionaire fighting side by side with the pauper, as well as we find the scientist fighting the same way with the laborer, a thorough spirit of good fellowship prevailing in this vast country of nine million of men. Events, that have happened since you wrote this article have perhaps convinced you by this time, that at least the leaders of the German army are far superior to those of her enemies and that her soldiers are at least as good, as any of the enemy. In military and naval circles of the United States a big change of opinion has taken place about the fighting qualities of the German army. Shortly after the outbreak of this terrible war the writer of this remembers that thirty army officers of the United States upon being interviewed as to the probable outcome of this war, stated that Germany had no chance to ever conquor her enemies and would be crushed, but I read now in the Army and Navy Journal of June, that competent judges of military affairs in the United States insist now, that Germany can never be defeated in this war. If there is one thing certain, it is the fact, that Germany having been deliberately attacked for the purpose of destroying her commercially will never have to ask for peace and will wait until her enemies are ready to ask for it. You still seem to think that Germany provoked this war, and I will not attempt to argue with you on this point, for it would be love's labor lost; but you should remember that English greed for gain has waged two wars upon the United States or do you believe, that in the revolutionary war the thirteen colonies were the agressors, and again the United States the aggressor in 1812? For the same reasons England has attacked nearly every nation on the globe. She has by drastardly methods maintained her supremacy at sea to the detriment of the balance of the world, particularly the United States, and Mr. Wilson is to be congratulated, that at last he found courage enough to call a halt to English impudence. England has been the highway robber of the seas for centuries, but the day of coming judgment is near and Germany seems to be destined by fate to accomplish this task. In fact England's supremacy at sea is a matter of the past even now.

COLVIN IS A CANDIDATE

Alexandrian Would Succeed James B. Doherty as Labor Commissioner

Considerable interest was exhibited in Alexandria last night in the special dispatch from Richmond announcing the candidacy of Howard T. Colvin, to succeed James B. Doherty, state commissioner of labor, whose term expires February 28, 1916 and who

Mr. Colvin's whose home in this city war former recretary of the Alexandria Trades ouncil. For some time he was chief clerk to Lewis H. Machen, director of the legislative reference bureau.

The Central Trade and Labor Council of Richmond has before it a resolution asking Governo r Stuart to name for the office and recommending Mr. Colvin, who is the editor of the Square Deal, a weekly newspaper dedicated to the interests of organized labor. Under the rules of the central body, action on the resolution cannot be taken for two weeks. The Richmond Typographical Unoin has adopted a similar resolution, but recommending for the office M. R. Pace, of Richmond.

Commissioner Doherty, when asked yesterday for a statement, declined to speak for publication except to say that he would be a candidate for reappointment and that he would ask for reappointment on his record in office.

Friends of the commissioner were more communicative. They aver that the opposition to Doherty is confined to a few unions in Richmond and Alexandria, and that the fight on him was precipitated by the defeat of the faction in the State Federation of Labor which was led by Richmond and Alexandria members in the last annual convention in Fredericksburg.

That there is a sharp division of sentiment on various questions of moment in the ranks of the State organization is freely conceded by both sides. The fact that different candidates are supported for Doherty's office by the contral body here and the Typographical Union discloses a three-cornered contest for the office which is now the bone of contention.

The resolution indorsing Colvin, which was adopted by the Central Trades and Labor Council, was offered by the representative of tthe Machinists' Union.

The Low Prices On These Fine Furs Leave No Doubt as to the Economy of This Annual Event

We must make the economies of this Fur sale plain to all—and the prices quoted today should do so. We present here only a partial list of the many items, but it should suffice.

The saving this year are more advantageous than ever before. Our buyers went into the market early and was able to get the very choicest selections, both as to skins and styles, at lower prices than in years.

With the seven Fur Sales that we have already held as a guide, we are able to say that this is a fur-buyingopportunity practically without precedent.

Any selections will be reserved upon the payment of a reasonable deposit.

Purchases will be stored in our Cold Storage Vaults, without charge, until December 1.

Patrons having monthly accounts will be given the privilege of partial charge upon selection, the remainder to be charged when delivered.

LYNCHING OF LEO M. FRANK.

The bold act of twenty-five armed men in taking Leo M. Frank from the Georgia farm and and hanging him on an apple tree does not meet with the approbation of many people of Georgia and certainly not with that of any other section of the United States. Such acts can be committed by but one class—outlaws.

Frank may or may not have killed the little factory girl Mary Phagan. The circumstances however, were against him, but such evidence is not always positive; there is room for reasonable doubt, and the Governor of Georgia had given the condemned man the benefit of that doubt. The punishment which he was undergoing was severe. Taken from the active path of life, inheriting the commercial instincts of an ancient and honorable race, the young man was destined to pass the remainder of his life in stripes, guarded by armed men, and compelled to mingle with the vile and vicious. He should have been let alone.

But a few weeks have elapsed since a brutal attempt was made upon his life by a fellow-convict. His life was saved, but he had been disfigured for life by trusts of a knife which had a short time before been dyed in swine's blood, so repugant to Jew.

The good book tells us not to follow a multitude to do evil.. And the ancients suggested that the mills of the gods grind slowly. Those whose feet are swift to shed blood may not always steer clear of the cogs.

CHINA TIRES OF REPUBLIC

What was from time immemorial known as the "Celestial Empire" has during the past three years been the Republic of China." That the people of that country were not in a condition for such a change was suspected at the time. There have been troubles ever since the deposition of the royal dynasty, and the skies are still obscured. In the meantime Japan has stepped in and established a virtual suzerainty over the land of Confucius.

Many of the best statesmen of the land now realize that the last state of the nation is worse than the first, and that the history of China under a republic is but a repetition of that of other countries who have thrown off royalty too suddenly. Portugal, Turkey and Persia have had their troubles since the abolition of autocracy.

What is practical in one country is not always so in another. Republics have been successes in Switzerland and the United States, but it was a long time before solid foundations could be erected under a popular government in France.

The project of proclaiming himself Emperor is being discussed by Yuan Shi-Kai, President of the Chinese Republic, with his immediate supporters and Dr. Frank Johnson Goodnow, president of John Hopkins University, legal adviser to the Chinese Government.

The news became public by the deliberate publication in newspapers of accounts of the formation by several prominent men of an association for the purpose of discussing whether a monarchy is not the better form of government for China.

The published article telling of the formation of the society quotes Dr. Goodnow as declaring that for China a monarchy is a better form of government than a republic, and that "conditions are different in China and America, and it is impossible to transplant a system from one country to another."

It was learned from one of Yuan Shi Kai's immediate supporters that if the project proved feasible the plan is to establish the monarchy within two years.

The Baltimore Sun in commenting upon the movement says:

"The plunge of China from an ancient and absolute despotism into twentieth century republicanism, including woman suffrage, was doubtless too sudden for its uncounted millions, steeped in the densest ignorance and without the faintest idea of what popular government should mean.

"Just how far China has traveled toward capacity for self-government will doubtless be shown in the way the Chinese receive the announcement of Yuan's usurpation."

NOTHING SACRED IN WAR.

Forty-five years ago fear was expressed that the wonderful clock at Strassburg would be damaged, if not destroyed, while the war between France and Germany was in progress. Fortunately it escaped injury.

Similar apprehension is expressed now while such cities as Venice and other interesting and historic places are within the war zone. Bombs have recently been dropped within a short distance of the "Queen of the Adriatic."

A dispatch a few days ago stated that the city of Jaffa had been attacked. This city was known as Joppa in biblical days. It was here that the Apostle Peter had the significant vision while in the house of Simon the tanner by the blue waters of the Mediterranean. Tourists to the Holy Land generally land at Jaffa, which is about fifty miles from Jerusalem. Here they are shown an ancient stone house which is believed to be the house of Simon the tanner, in which the soldiers of Cornelius, the centurian, located Peter.

While there is nothnig positive in the way of evidence to show that the house is that in which the apostle lodged on that memorable occasion, there is nothing to disprove the claim. At any rate, it is hoped this venerable structure, which is inspected with such interest by all acquainted with the Bible story, will escape shells during the present war.

SAVING MONEY FOR HIS COFFIN.

It is generally admitted that there is more pathos in Dickens's "Old Curiosity Shop" than any other of his works. The sad story of "Little Nell" will never be forgotten by those who have read it. The novel was first published seriatim, and when Nell began to sicken and it was seen that the novelist was bent upon closing her young life when it was just budding, hundreds of readers sent letters to Dickens begging him not to kill Little Nell. But the axe was laid at the root, the writer was inexorable and the last days of the little heroine as well as the pathetic scenes in connection with her sepulture have brought tears to the eyes of many.

But truth often furnishes cases as remarkable as fiction. Nine-year-old Freddie Smith of New York, is uneasy. The little fellow has tuberculosis and few friends; none of affluence. Ever since doctor told Freddie he had but a few more weeks to live he has diligently saved the quarters occasionally given him by visitors. He hopes to get enough to buy his coffin. He has described in detail to his nurse just the kind he wanted—a nice white one. As his condition fluctuates he shows apprehension lest he may not have enough quarters when the angel of death closes his eyes.

NEWS OF THE DAY

The province of Bukowina is severely afflicted with cholera. Whole villages have been devastated.

Dispatches from Berlin state the government has commandeered the 1915 crop of oats throughout the empire.

William Gerig, aged 20, was thrown 30 feet in the air in a spill in a motorcycle race yesterday at Phoenix, Arizona and died an hour later from a fractured skull.

A German submarine bombarded Parton, Harrington and Whitehaven, England yesterday. These towns are close together on the Cumberland coast of the Irish Sea. It is stated that the damage is immaterial and that there were no casualties.

The Germans have been at work in the navy yard at Antwerp since March on the construction of nine submarines. Only two of these have seen active service. One was distroyed completely by three English aeroplanes. The others are still unfinished

Dispatches from Udine predict the capture of Trieste by the end of August. They state that Gen. Cadorna has practically completed preparations for a general attack, which will result in the capture of Carso plateau and the Fortress of Gorza, Trieste's fall must follow.

Between 1,500 and 1,800 piece workers at the Warner Brothers' Company at Bridgeport, Conn., one of the largest corset factories in the country, walked out yesterday afternoon. They want a readjustment of wages to meet the fifty-hour weekly schedule put into effect yesterday.

Five men were killed in a mysterious explosion at the Aetna Explosive Company plant at Grove Run eighteen miles from Emporium, Pa. yesterday. The explosion occured in the gelatine plant. The cause has not been learned. The company was working on large war orders. One plant was completely wrecked and two others badly damaged.

Lines are forming for one of the greatest internal conflicts England has ever witnessed—a conflict to determine whether Great Britain will depend upon a volunteer army to defend herself or will resort to conscription to raise the forces which are deemed necessary in many quarters to strengthen the allies sufficiently to withstand Germany. Some papers are leading the campaign for conscription.

It is said that the Russian government has just placed an order for $60,000,000 worth of munitions of war, the contract going to a big powder and arms company in this country. This order is to be augmented by a bonus of 20 per cent if it is filled before November 1. The Russian government has opened purchasing offices in the Flatiron Building New York, where two generals and more than twenty other officers of lesser rank are stationed.

Morall P. Tozier, twenty-four, an electrician, was instantly killed shortly after noon yesterday when 66,000 volts of electricity shot through his body in the Eckington car barn of the Washington Railway and Electric Company. Tozier was working under a dynamo in the car shed, when he touched a wire carrying the current His body was burned by the electricity. The fingers of his left hand, which closed on the wire, were burned nearly off.

Miss Beatrice Allen, who occupies a fashionable South Side apartment in Chicago, was robbed in daylight yesterday of jewelry valued at $22,000 and $100 cash. The robbers obtained entrance by pretending to be from a florist's. They stunned the maid with a "blackjack" and intiimidated Miss Allen with a revolver. The moment the robbers disappeared Miss Allen ran to a balcony and screamed. A policeman exchanged shots with the fugitives, but they escaped.

British reinforcements, who landed near Suvla Bay, on the Gallipoli peninsula, have fought their way southward and effected a junction with the New Zealanders near Gaba Tepe. The new British artillery broke down row after row of Turkish trenches along the Gulf of Saros shore, the Turks beating a hastly retreat. Allied warships raided the Asia Minor coast near the Gulf of Smyrna on Saturday, shelling Turkish encampments at Dekeli, Phocea and New Epesus. The Turks fled to the interior.

A review of the recent activities of the American Federation of Catholic Societies is contained in the report of Anthony Matre, the national secretary, submitted at yesterday's session of the convention of the federation. A recommendation that the federation adopt a resolution urging the restoration of peace in Europe and that Catholic organizations the world over be asked to participate in a universal request for peace was contained in the report, which concluded with the announcement that Pope Benedict had granted to all federation members his apostolic benediction.

Reports from all the Balkan capitals foreshadow an early adjustment of the Balkan situation, in which mutual concessions will unite Bulgaria, Serbia, Roumania and Greeces on the side of the allies; The most significant development of yesterday was the statement of Bulgarian Minister Stancioff that Bulgaria's decision would not long be delayed and possibly had already been taken. It was intimated that arrangements with Turkey had been definitely abandoned and that Turkey was awaiting Bulgaria's intervention in the war as an opportunity to sue for peace. Turkey, it is said, is hopeless of defense against Bulgaria for lack of munitions

VIRGINIA NEWS

Alfred Tucker, colored, who was shot on Saturday night in Amherst county by Rufus Saunders, also colored died at the Lynchburg Hospital yesterday morning. He was shot near the heart. The men are said to have quarreled.

Governor Stuart yesterday announced the list of delegates appointed by him to represent Virginia at the Pan-American Road Congress, which will convene in Oakland, Cal. on September 13. The sessions will continue one week. Among the delegate are Edward Duncan, Alexandria; and C. Leachman of Manassas.

Mrs. H. A. Hudson, wife of Dr. H. A. Hudson, a prominent physician of Afton, Va. was seriously hurt in an automobile accident when occured three miles north of Fishersville yesterday. She was drving her automobile down a steep hill, when it refused to take a curve and rushed up a bank at one side of the road and then fell over backward, catching her beneath it. Her leg was shattered, and she was badly bruised and cut Other occupants of her automobile pulled her from beneath the machine.

Staunton, Va. Aug. 17—In tutrning out of the path of another automobile coming down a steep mountain incline on the road between Waynesboro and Afton Sunday afternoon an automobile driven by Clyde H. Lambert, of Waynesboro, ran too close to the edge of the cliff and tumbled over, carrying with it Mr. Lambert, his wife, a young daughter and a guest. The machine toppled over and then struck a large tree, which stopped its downward descent. All of the occupants were thrown out and badly bruised and shaken up. Mr. Lambert was caught beneath the car. He was removed from under the machine by occupants of other cars that happened to be passing, and rushed to his home, where his injuries were treated.

Because his housekeeper, on account of more urgent duties, failed to have his breakfast ready which he came down stairs yesterday morning, Gordon F. Hardy, aged 35 and unmarried, living on a farm adjoining the Hackwood battlefield, near Winchester, went out into the yard and fired a bullet into his heart, dying instantly.

James B. Lawler, a shoemaker of Page county, died yesterday in Luray from injuries sustained Saturday during the reunion of Rosser Gibbons Camp of Confederate Veterans. Mr. Lawler came to Luray atcompanied by his wife, and in the crowd he became separated from her. In attempting to cross the street he was stricken with epilepsy and run down by an automobile, one leg and three ribs being broken.

Miss Mary Life, 40 years old, is in a critical condition in Winchester, with collar bone and several ribs fractured and internal injuries as a result of being struck Sunday by an automobile in charge of Frank Dolan, of Harrisonburg. She started across the pike to a neighbor's home, thinking Dolan would stop to pay toll at the gate which she and her sister keeps, but the machine kept going and struck her.

The store and postoffice at Pamlins, 35 miles east of Lynchburg, were robbed yesterday morning by two yeggmen, who made their escape in an automobile, Postmaster Ligon appeared as the men were leaving the store. He fired three shots at them. The men got about $400 in money and stamps.

Lynchburg manufacturers, apparently, are preparing to resist an effort of State Examiner of Records J. S. Easley, lookng up back assessments against them for State taxes in the past five year. It is held by Examiner Easley hat the manufacturers have had no right during the past five years to deduct from their returns of capital invested in business amounts of borrowed capital. The examiner claims taxes should have been paid on all capital and threatens to make assessments for five years, the aggregate rate on which would be $2.05 per $100.

LIEBNECHT'S QUESTION

Socialist Member of Reigstag Will Ask About Peace Terms

Amsterdam, August 17—The question which Dr. Paul Liebknecht, one of the Socialists leaders of the Reichstag, will send to the House today—whether the government is prepared to enter into peace negotiations on the basis of abandoning all plans of annexation of conquered territory—has not been commented on by the German newspapers.

The newspapers, however, print the question under various headlines the Vorwaerts, calling it "A short question to the Reichtag," the Vossische Zeitung, "a little question of Liebknecht to the Chancellor," and the Lokal Anzeiger, "A silly question."

OFFICE OF

CLERK OF THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES

Proposed amendments to the Constitution of Virginia, agreed to at session of General Assembly 1914, and published in pursuance of section 196 of the Constitution and act approved February 3, 1908.

JOINT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to section 46, Article IV, of the Constitution.

Resolved by the House of Delegates, the Senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia, be and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the House of Delegates for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six of article fifteen of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia, section forty-six of article four, which is in the following words:

Sec. 46. The General Assembly shall meet once in two years, on the second Wednesday in January, next succeeding the election of the members of the House of Delegates, and not oftener, unless convened in the manner prescribed by this Constitution. No session of the General Assembly, after the first under this Constitution, shall continue longer than sixty days; but with the concurrence of three-fifths of the members elected to each house, the session may be extended for a period not exceeding thirty days. Except for the first session held under this Constitution, members shall be allowed a salary for not exceeding sixty days at any regular session, and for not exceeding thirty days at any extra session. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn to another place nor for more than three days. A majority of the members elected to each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and shall have power to compel the attendance of members in such manner and under such penalty as each house may prescribe.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 46. The General Assembly shall meet once in two years, on the second Wednesday in January, next succeeding the election of the members of the House of Delegates, and not oftener, unless convened in the manner prescribed by this Constitution. No session of the General Assembly shall continue longer than ninety days, except that with the concurrence of three-fifths of the members elected to each house, the session may be extended for a period not exceeding thirty days. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn to another place, not far more than three days. A majority of the members elected to each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and shall have power to compel the attendance of members in such manner and under such penalty as each house may prescribe.

JOINT RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 50 of Article IV of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment, and certifying the same to the next General Assembly.

1. Resolved by the House of Delegates, the Senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia, be and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the House of Delegates for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section fifty of article four of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia, section fifty, article four, which is in the following words:

Sec. 50. No law shall be enacted except by bill. A bill may originate in either house, to be approved or rejected by the other, or may be amended by either, with the concurrence of the other.

No bill shall become a law unless prior to its passage it has been—

(a) Referred to a committee of each house, considered by such committee in session, and reported;

(b) Printed by the house in which it originated, prior to its passage therein;

(c) Read at length on three different calendar days in each house, and unless,

(d) A yea and nay vote has been taken in each house upon its final passage, the names of the members voting for and against entered on the journal, and a majority of those voting, which shall include at least two-fifths of the members elected to each house, recorded in the affirmative.

And only in the manner required in sub-division (d) of this section shall an amendment to a bill by one house be concurred in by the other, or a conference report be adopted by either house, or either house discharge a committee from the consideration of a bill and consider the samo as if reported; provided, that the printing and reading, or either, required in sub-division (b and c) of this section, may be dispensed with in a bill to codify the laws of the State, and in any case of emergency by a vote of four-fifths of the members voting in each house taken by the yeas and nays, the names of the members voting for and against, entered on the journal; provided further, that no bill which creates or established a new office, or which creates, continues or revives a debt or charge or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, or discharges, or commutes any claim or demand of the State, or which imposes, continues or revives a tax, shall be passed except by the affirmative vote of the majority of all the members elected to each house, the vote to be by the yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against, entered on the journal. Every law imposing, continuing or reviving a tax shall specifically state such tax, and no law shall be construed as so stating such tax, which requires a reference to any other law or any other tax. The presiding officer of each house shall, in the presence of the house over which he presides, sign every bill which has been passed by both houses and duly enrolled. Immediately before this is done, all other business being suspended, the title of the bill shall be publicly read. The fact of the signing shall be entered on the journal.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

HANGS SELF WITH LEAD PIPE

Former Dunkard Minister Was Held For Murder of Girl

As was stated in the Gazette, Silas N. Ebersole a former Dunkard minister, held for the murder of 15 yearold Hazel Macklin, in August, 1914, committed suicide by hanging himself in the jail at South Bend, Ind. yesterday morning.

Ebersole's body was found hanging to the iron bars in the rear of his cell by Turnkey R. G. Barkley early today and the indications were that he had been dead for several hours.

The former preacher broke off a small lead pipe from a disinfecting appartus in the hall way near his cell and twisted it about his neck and around the bars of his cell over his head. He had trussed himself with towels and blankets, so that in his death struggles he would not be able to release himself from the pipe. Death was due to strangulation.

Ebersole left nothing in the way of a confession, according to Coroner T. J. Swantz, but a letter addressed to his wife, which was found in his cell.

The authorities say this had to do with business matters.

CORSET STAYS SAVE LIFE

Youth Fires Bullet At Girl, Blank Cartiridges Ae Self

Philadelphia, Aug. 17—Heroics were forgotten by 17-year-old Daniel Snyder yesterday, when he was asked to explain his attempt to kill pretty Naomi Leister, 21 years old, and a mock attempt to end his own life at her Lansdale home. He simply whimpered that he loved her and had decided, after the girl's mother had sent him a letter to the effect that she'd rather see Naomi in the grave than married to him, that it would be better for both to die.

The lovesick youth shot the girl in the presence of her parents, and the only thing that saved her life was a steel corset stay. The bullet struck her in the back, but was deflected by the stay and she received only a flesh wound.

At least two o fthe three cartridges are known to have been blanks, and the slight wound he inflicted upon himself is believed to have been caused by the wadding of one of them. Snyder himself admitted he knew his own life was in no danger.

The boy is held.

MOVEMENTS FOR PEACE.

Catholics Working to Bring War to Close.

Paris, Aug. 17—Cardinal Gasparri papal secretary of state, has been hurriedly recalled to the Vatican from a health resort because of peace developments, according to the Rome correspondent of the Paris Journal.

"I repeatedly affirmed," the correspondent continues, "that Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria sent an autograph letter to Benedict XV complimenting the pope on his initiative in favor of peace, for which the Emperor also 'praises God.'

"The peace campaign has been intensified among Catholics. Bishops of all countries have been asked to use their influence to that end."

The correspondent attributes the peace moves to Germany adding: "Socialists are being incited to organize an international peace campaign wherein Germans will participate. Dputty Margari, secretary of the socialist group confirms this news; stating also that the German socialists disapproved of the violation of Belgian neutrality and are willing that that country should be surrendered".

2,000 AMERICANS AT FRONT

Could Get Many More, Says Canadian Minister of Militia

London, Aug. 17—There are no fewer than 2,000 Americans in the ranks of the Canadian military contingent, said Maj. Gen. Samuel Hughse, Canadian Minister of Militia, at a meeting of Americans held here Sunday night.

"I have already written letters of gratitude, and sympathy," said General Hughes, "to mothers of more than 100 American boys who have fallen while fighting in Flanders alongside of Canadian comrades. More than 2,000 enlisted, and we could have have many more if we wished. Any number of West Pointers offered their services as officers and some are now with us."

ALLEGED GERMAN ACTIVITY

Government Officials Say Most of Charges Appearing in Paper Is Old

All investigations of charges of alleged violations of neutrality brought against officials of the German Embassy and prominent German-Americans said to be affiliated with it are in the hands of the Department of Justice, Secretary of State Lansing said yesterday. He denied most emphatically that his department was in any way concerned with any investigation at this time. Most of the charges now being made in newspaper articles, the Secretary said, are old and many of them already have been disposed of.

Because of the critical situation that resulted from the correspondence initiated by the German submarine warfare and the sinking of the Lusitania, the administration is not anxious to have irrelevent matter injected into its relations with Germany at this time. It is felt that in the majority of the matters complained of there was no violation of any existing law.

In all the mass of charges against German representatives that have appeared in the public prints recently there is, according to Washington officials view, one thing that seems to stand out clearly, and that is that there is ground for complaint against the extra-diplomatic activities of the Kaiser's representatives in this country.

Train Kills Painters

Carnegie, Pa., Aug 17—Walter A. Socher, aged 20, of Canonsburg, and Charles E. Powelson, 24 of Carnegie, bridge painters, were killed by a passenger train on the Pensylvania Railroad at Hanlin Station, near here, yesterday.

GRANTS WRIT OF ERROR

Will Review Suit of H. M. Hubbell Against H. W. Hilleary

The Supreme Court of Appeals yesterday awarded a writ of error and supersedeas to the defendant in the case of H. M. Hubbell vs. H. W. Hilleary, which comes from the Circuit Court of Fauquier County, where judgment was entered against Hilleary on October 9, 1914.

The original action grew out of the sale of the farm of John S. Gaines in Fauquier, to W. W. Finley, former president of the Southern Railway ,and now deceased, for $40,000. Hilleary acted as agent in the transaction for Gaines and his wife. After the sale Hubbell, a real estate agent at Warrenton claimed that he had been employed by Gaines to sell the farm. He claimed the commission of 5 per cent that had been paid Hilleary, and sued the Gaineses.

Hubbell lost the suit. He then sued Hilleary for one-half of the commission the latter had received from the Gaineses. The first trial of this suit terminated in a hung jury. On a second trial the jury awarded Hubbell $1,00. From this judgment he appealed.
